

WHERE YOUR WELL-BEING MATTERS MOST

At Chas Everitt, we go beyond the professional realm – we are committed to the holistic well-being of our agents. Our success is not just measured in transactions; it's measured in the smiles, support and satisfaction of each of our agents. For us, you're not just an agent, but a cherished individual whose well-being is at the heart of everything we do. Because at Chas Everitt, your success is our shared journey.

Here's what sets us apart:

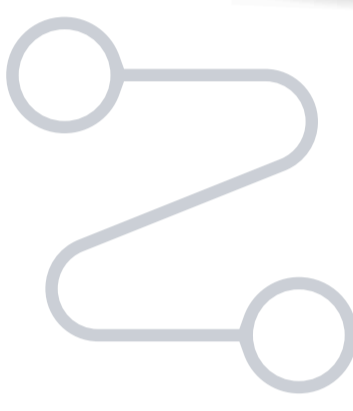

FAMILY

Don't just join a real estate company, be part of a family. Chas Everitt is more than a business; it's a family rooted in strong ethics and values.

Break free from hierarchies – our agents have direct access to the CEO to raise concerns, ask questions or simply have a chat. Experience a workplace where you matter and thrive.

FLEXIBILITY

We personalise your employee experience based on what works for you and how you choose to work. Like homes, careers are unique. Choose a path that suits your skills, lifestyle and ambitions.

That's why we offer a structured traditional route or our Nomad model, ensuring flexibility without compromising support.

CARING FOR OUR COMMUNITIES

With the launch of ChasCares, we can make a difference together. This enables our franchises, staff and agents to have great involvement in a wide variety of initiatives within our local communities and nationally.

SUPPORT AND RECOGNITION

At Chas Everitt, we're all about building a culture of support and success. For us, it's not just about the awards, it's about empowering our agents to do their best work and recognising every single person who has helped shape our family into what it is today.

EMPLOYEE WELL-BEING

With Chas Everitt, you're not just an agent; you're a brand backed by instant recognition and a stellar reputation. From marketing services to unique incentive programmes and the latest tools and technology, Chas Everitt provides you with cutting-edge support to realise your career ambitions.

No matter where you are in your real estate journey, Chas Everitt is here to elevate your experience and ensure your well-being and success every step of the way.
